Our Cover

When the weather outside is frightful, ARRL Lab Test Engineer Bob Allison, WB1GCM, heads to the workbench. Here, he can not only repair his existing gear, he can build new and exciting things for his shack, such as this QRP SSB/CW receiver kit. Whether you are an experienced homebrewer or are using that soldering gun for the first time, you are certain to discover something that will inspire you to go to your workbench as you thumb through this special DIY issue of QST. Happy building!
