ELEMENT CREDIT: To receive exam element credit, the candidate must bring one of the following items to the exam session: an old license copy, a letter from the FCC stating which license class was held, a copy of the entire page from a Radio Amateur Callbook showing the license class, call sign and the book's publishing year (Unfortunately, Callbook's published before 1967 did not list the license class). Remember, the burden of proof lies with the Candidate not the VEC or VE Team.

CT = Pre-03/21/1987 Technician licenses. Applicant will receive credit for Element 3 but must hold a current Technician license or must pass a Technician Element 2 exam to earn a General license.

CL = Expired General and Advanced Licenses. Applicant will receive credit for Element 3 but hold a current Technician license or must pass the Technician Element 2 exam to earn a General license.

CL = Expired Extra Licenses. Applicant will receive credit for Elements 3 and 4 but must hold a current Technician license or must pass the Technician Element 2 exam to earn an Extra license.

EXAM FEES: Every applicant must pay the exam session application fee. If a candidate fails an element and wants to re-test for the same element, an additional fee will be required. VE Teams may retain a portion of each exam application fee for prudent and necessary exam session expenses. To view the current exam fee or reimbursement information visit www.arrl.org/arrl-vec-exam-fees.

LICENSE RENEWAL AND MODIFICATION FEES and ARRL MEMBERSHIP FEES: VE Teams may not retain any portion of the processing fee from license renewals, license modifications, or memberships as these are not fees related to an exam session.
